Millennium@EDU reimagined the 21st century learning environment creating the Millennium@EDU Model Classroom, a unique classroom designed to promote real-time collaboration and students and teachers' engagement, enabling educators to play as "role learners" while increasing the interest of students. The Learning Management System allows teachers to interact with each single student showing different answers to exercises and managing students' computer devices.

Solving and experiencing real world problems through Information, Communication and Scientific Technologies increases students' knowledge and curiosity. Learning and developing their 21st century skills in the Millennium@EDU Model Classroom becomes a natural experience for students.
